

NIT-K student bags second prize in TCS TechByte

The Hindu Bureau

MANGALURU

Kaushik S. Nandan from the National Institute of Technology, Karnataka, at Surathkal, bagged the 2nd prize in the TCS TechByte, a State-level quiz competition conducted by Tata

Consultancy Services and the Board for IT Education Standards (BITES) recently in Bengaluru.

Dheeraj Angadi of KLS M.S. Sheshagiri College of Engineering and Technology, Belagavi emerged as the winner. The winner and the runner-up received education scholarships of ₹85,000 and ₹50,000 respectively. All finalists also got education scholarships by TCS.

Students from over 115 engineering colleges across Karnataka participated in the programme this year, the release said.